JERSEY ARCHITECTURE COMMISSION (JAC)

The Jersey Architecture Commission is an advisory group, established by the Minister for the Environment, to provide independent, expert advice and guidance on major and sensitive developments in Jersey.

The aim of all the Commission's work is to act in the public interest to foster discussion and increase the debate on good architecture and design in the island.

STEVE LUCE MINISTER FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

As Minister for the Environment, I am proud to commend the Jersey Architecture Commission for its vital work in promoting design excellence across our island. The Design Awards celebrates developments that not only meet high architectural standards but also contribute meaningfully to our built environment and community well-being. The ongoing efforts from the JAC play a key role in shaping a sustainable, vibrant future for Jersey.

LYNNE SULLIVAN, CHAIR JAC

The Jersey Design Awards are an invaluable opportunity to celebrate the achievements of those shaping our built environment: raising the bar of excellence in all aspects of design.

This year's entries reflect both architectural excellence and a strong commitment to using scarce resources wisely; in particular, they excel in sitting well in their context. Related to this, we are delighted to introduce a new category, Placemaking and Community Engagement, which highlights the vital role of design in shaping spaces that foster community connections.
