Thanks,

1. I would NOT include the 35% reduction quote. Spending less is not saying value for money, I would say we probably need to spend more not less but ensure every penny is justified.

2. To clarify, I was aware of Mike Travel's costs and strenuously advised against what was planned. I was unaware of Wayne's costs.

I'm back on my email now. Just landed.

We have in place, specific policies to ensure that the department obtains the best possible value when booking travel. This has clearly not happened in this case and I regret this has occurred. I have reaffirmed in the strongest possible terms that I expect all staff to exercise prudence when making travel arrangements. Despite this incident, the department has been successful in reducing travel costs by 35% in the past year."
