Thanks [REDACTED]

I have changed some of it as below.

Please let me know if you have any observations

"I offered Deputy Pamplin the opportunity to serve as my Assistant Minister after a lengthy discussion with him on Thursday. He asked for some time to consider the offer. I then received an email on Monday in which the Deputy indicated his willingness to accept the role but made it conditional upon a number of requirements that I considered unusual for a prospective Assistant Minister to request.

"These requirements demonstrated that our approaches to the role would differ and I felt the Deputy was not taking into account the wide-ranging responsibilities that arise from working within government.

"Deputy Pamplin has sent a further email to say that he understands my position and respects my decision. He is a skilled and passionate scrutineer who works hard in the important role of holding Government to account. I wish him well in that role and have little doubt that he will continue to be an effective and committed member of the States Assembly."

Regards

Richard
